

Les Manley in: Search for The King

At some point in his search, Les remembers that he wants to buy some spare electronic parts during his lunch hour. But he needs your assistance recalling their prices. When this occurs, use your official King decoder glasses and:

1. Find the illustration of the spare part on your Parts Catalog that matches the one on your computer screen.
2. Find the correct price of the part on the Parts Catalog.
3. If you're using a mouse, point and click on the correct price on the screen. If you're using the keyboard, highlight the correct box by using the Tab key or Arrow keys, then press Enter.
4. When the next part appears (apparently Les needs more than one), repeat the same process. To continue the search, you must identify each price correctly.
